

How well must I speak and write English (LNS738)

For information about studying in Australia we recommend you visit the Australian Government website "Study in Australia" at <http://www.studyinaustralia.gov.au>

How well you need to speak English depends on 2 things:

1. the age, course level and living arrangements of the student
2. the students citizenship

Contact Lorien Novalis School first

Students interested in studying at Lorien Novalis School should first contact the School to determine if there is the possibility of enrolment before contacting the nearest Australian Government office in their country to confirm the particular English language proficiency requirements (if any) for obtaining a visa.

English proficiency of a student

High School students are expected to have the following English speaking levels. High School students would be expected to be regularly communicating (spoken and written) in English.

Note that in some cases these skill levels need to be demonstrated before a student visa can be issued by the Australian Government (DIAC).

Years 7 to 8: Students need Intermediate (46-60) or an IELTS band score of 3.5

Year 9: IELTS band score of 4.0

Year 10: Upper Intermediate (61-70) or an IELTS band score of 5.0

Spoken English Assessment

Refer to the document LNS739 Proving English Proficiency for information about the spoke English assessment.

Intensive English courses in Australia

Lorien Novalis School does not currently provide an Intensive English Course. However families can independently organise to attend such a course (usually 20 weeks in duration).

For students from the People's Republic of China who are 16 years old or over at the time of visa application and who intend to undertake an intensive English course in Australia prior to starting studying at Lorien Novalis School, the Australian Government requires: 'Above average' on the AEAS test or an IELTS overall average score of 5, with a minimum score of at least 4.5 in each band.

Families might choose to enrol their child in an intensive English course in Australia. Courses are available through such organisation as the Sydney College of English (<http://www.sce.edu.au> then go to 'Courses' and then to 'Preparation for High School Study'). Parents should contact the providers of the intensive English course directly, and make arrangements directly with that provider.
